

One Last War To Fight

Official Soundtrack

A collection of tunes that helped inspire scenes, the writing of OLWTF, even pairings. Each character has a song which I think fits them, and each pairing has its own song as well. This is mostly rock/alternative, though there is a dash of R&B as well. For any country fans out there, sorry but it's just not to my taste. If you have any songs you think might do well, suggest them in a review. Each song listed here is in my own (growing like a righteous mad bastard) collection of music. I hope you enjoy this little compilation. I was planning to release this later, but in order to keep the fic fresh, I decided to release the soundtrack now.

This next collection of songs are single tracks I used when drumming up scenes, dialogue, and other minutiae while writing this. I'll list them in no particular order, seeing as how some of them influence other scenes I have yet to write, and that naming them all would take too much time.

Title: One Last War To Fight: The Soundtrack

KW, this is a brilliant collection of songs you've selected for the characters. I especially like the song you chose for Lynx-O. You need something to motivate you to write; songs are but one reason. I really do trust your judgment.
